Note - The AFM requires Growers to be “Certified Naturally Grown”. However, it is understood that the availability and cost of CNG feed is difficult. For the 2012 season the absolute requirements for Meat, Egg and Dairy Growers are pasture raised and only approved medications or supplements. Information provided in the expanded sections below will be critical in assisting the Board of Directors in selecting Growers for the 2012 season including for the Downtown Market (see details below). A site visit, also, may be part of evaluation process. Specific labeling may be required in lieu of the CNG certification.

Help us with some additional information as to how you raise your animals and produce your food. We appreciate that there are many complex and challenging issues with regard to CNG certification and we are prepared to work with you:
